Talking Dirty On The Phone

There are several reasons why you should learn how to talk dirty over the phone.

For one, it adds spiciness and excitement to your relationship when you're not together.

Secondly, if you do it correctly, he'll think of you and only you during the entire day.

And lastly, if you're in a long distance relationship, it will help keep that spark alive when you can have sex with him for longer periods of time.

Now, I've said this before, but it bears repeating:

When it comes to phone sex, HOW you say something is much more important than WHAT you say.

Because he can't see you, your tone of voice is crucial here.

Be sure to go back and read again the Dirty Talk Theory part, especially the Phone Sex Operator's Formula.

Now there are two types of phone sex: shorter and longer.

Shorter phone sex is used when you're going to see him soon.

So if you're going to see each other that night, you would call him during the day and just tease him a little bit.

Don't be too direct here - you want to be subtle and tease him, make him eager to come home to you.

Talk about a surprise you have in store for him...and be subtle, but hint that it's a sexual surprise.

I have something special planned for you tonight.

Of course, don't overuse this technique.

If you use it every day, pretty soon he'll know exactly what you're doing.

Then it won't be a pleasant surprise, but he'll grow to expect it.

Shorter phone sex is all about saying a few quick lines - maybe even just one - and creating just enough suspense he can't wait to come home and ravish you.

You're not trying to get him off here or to make him have an orgasm - that's what the bedroom is there for.

Now, longer phone sex is pretty much the opposite of that.

You should use it when you're separated and are not going to see each other that night, or maybe even longer.

Perhaps he's on a business trip, or you're traveling for a few days.

It doesn't matter - the point is that you won't be there to please him in person.

It's here that you want him to have an orgasm while you're whispering naughty things in his ear on the phone.

You can use any lines you want from this guide, but I've found that the most effective thing to do in this situation is to simply describe - in vivid detail - what you would do to him if you were there right then.

And be graphic - this is no time to be timid.

Have him masturbate while you're describing all the kinky, naughty things you would do to him.

Be sure to use the words like Imagine or Visualize - those are the words hypnotists use to influence their subjects. You can use them to put him in a sort of sexual trance.

You can say something like this:

Imagine this...I'm down on my knees and I would slowly start sucking on your big, fat cock...God it feels good... I'm slowly taking it in more and more... oh God it's so big...I'm now taking it all in...I'm making it so wet...You like me drooling over your cock, don't you? I can't wait for you to cum inside my mouth so I can swallow it all...

You get the idea ;) )

Skype Sex - Talking Dirty In The 21st Century

Now, I get a lot of questions regarding Skype so I thought I should talk about that for a second.

Now Skype sex has its advantages and disadvantages.

The obvious advantage is that you can see each other and use that in numerous sexy ways.

The disadvantages are that Skype can and will sometimes have lousy connection, so it can really mess up your dirty talking plans. Also, because your guy can see you now, you lose that mystery and the ability to paint a picture in his mind.

So should you use Skype for sex?

Yes, but I would first start with the regular phone sex and master that.

After you feel comfortable talking dirty on the phone, you can use Skype and add the visual dimension to your communication.

Skype is especially useful if you want to masturbate together with your partner.

Remember, men are visual creatures and if he sees you in all your glorious horniness, he'll become much more horny as well.

I would practice alone before you do it - you need to figure out the right camera angles, see how your face looks like when you're masturbating, etc.

But once you figure all of that out, you should definitely add Skype sex to your repertoire of sex skills.

Conclusion

So there you have it.

If you combine my main guide with both of my bonuses (this one and the sexting one) you have the complete, step-by-step system for talking dirty to your man in every possible situation.

And don't forget - you're also getting a free subscription to my VIP newsletter, where I'll talk about best sex tips and techniques, answer your questions, talk about common relationship problems, and much, much more.

Here's what you should do now:

Take the techniques you've learned here. Try them out.

After you get good results (and, of course, you will) send me an email.

I love to hear the successes of my students.

Also, I'm always open to receiving glowing testimonials. 😊

Looking forward to hearing from you,
